

Family Pie Charts

Family Structure 1971

Family Structure 2010

Pie charts to show family structure for Great Britain in 1971 and 2010.

Data source: Households and families Jen Beaumont Edition No: Social Trends 41 ONS

TASK A

Colour the keys on the pie charts above to match the sectors you think they represent.

One sector and key has been coloured for you.

Check your answers from the Family Pie Charts Solutions.

Family Pie Charts

What do these Pie Charts tell us?

1.
  - a) Which type of family was the most common in Great Britain in 2010?
  - b) Did this type of family make up a larger or smaller share of the pie in 2010 than in 1971?

2.
  - a) Which type of family do we find second most often in Great Britain in 2010?
  - b) Suggest why there were more of these types of families in 2010 than in 1971?

3.
  - a) Which type of family do we find third most often in Great Britain in 2010?
  - b) What are some reasons why children might leave home when they are older?

4.
  - a) Which type of family do we find least often in Great Britain?
  - b) Can you think of a type of family that might be in the 'Other' section?

5. What information have you learned from the pie charts that most surprised you?